Forty-Thousand Soldiers Pass Be- Uniform Price List and Wage fore His Majesty on the Champs De Mars.

SPECTACULAR

ST. PETERSBURG, May 11.-There were scenes of martial splendor on the Champs de Mars to-day when Emperor Nicholas held his annual review of the detachments of all troops in the military district of St. Petersburg, which include every regihave just cabled to our representative at ment of the imperial guard. The foreign military attaches scrutinized with more than ordinary care the defile of crack regiments of the empire which is now battling to maintain its position in the far East, and the general verdict was that no imperial forces. I know that letters have better body of soldiers could be seen in

The field on which the review was held presented a stirring picture. Drawn up on the vast plain were 40,000 of the finest Empress, and the plan is being worked out | troops in the empire arrayed in brilliant uniforms. Stretching back from the front like waves on a sea were the foot soldiers, vice commissioner to the world's fair, is rank upon rank. Behind them were great now at St. Louis. His son, Mr. Wong Vung parks of artillery, while back into the radiating streets as far as the eye could see were the fluttering pennants of the splendid cavalry.

Preceded by the generals in lambskin caps and followed by an imposing entourage, which included the military attaches, among whom were Capt. B. T. Mott and Major Macomb, representing the United States, the imperial cortege moved through Sheriff and Deputies Determined the summer garden to the plain. The Empress and the Empress's mother rode in an open state carriage with Cossack footmen and drawn by six white stallions. The Emperor was mounted on a coal-black charger and wore the dark-green uniform of a of the Order of St. Andrew across his breast, his being by far the most modest uniform in the imperial procession. Like a shuttle the cortege passed back and forth as the Emperor inspected the dren," was his universal greeting. "Good health, your imperial Majesty," was the unfailing response. When the inspection was completed the bands were massed opposite the imperial pavilion. The Empress took her place with her suite and moved some distance to the Thursday; showers Thursday night and right. Out in front, alone save for a bugler and two Circassians of the guard in bright crimson, the Emperor sat his charger like a statue. He looked strong and well. Then the defile of splendid battalions began, the bands playing regimental airs throughout The review concluded with the charge of 10,000 cavalry at full speed across the plain. With a front half a mile wide the magnificent horsemen in strange and multi-colored uniforms and with flags and pennants streaming, shot forward like one man at the command of Grand Duke Vladimir, who is commander-in-chief of all the guard regiments. The very earth seemed to tremble-under the thunder of horses' hoofs. On they came at such a mad pace that it seemed as if they must carry down all before them. Instinctively those in the boxes drew back, but scarcely five paces beyond the Emperor Grand Duke Viadimir threw up his sword and the line stopped dead, many horses being thrown upon their haunches, but not a man or beast went down. A great burst of applause came from the spectators.

Then, in accordance with custom, the commanding officers moved up to hear the Emperor's criticism, and at the same time the senior noncommissioned officer of each Grave Situation Is Discussed by detachment of troops repaired to the imperial pavilion to pay his respects to the Empress She rewarded these noncommissioned officers by directing the distribution of three roubles to each and one rouble to each man participating in the review. Dr. E. C. Reyer Says Sum of $16,000 Is Needed to Make Building Safe.

Dr. E. C. Reyer, president of the City Board of Health, has renewed the request of the Health Board for the appropriation of $25,000 to be used in repairing the City Hospital. Members of the board do not favor the ordinance drawn by City Controller Dunn, which provides for an appropriation of $2,000 to construct fire escapes at the

It is pointed out in the request that with the sum of $16,500 the hospital can be put into good condition and all necessary repairs can be made. With the remaining sum of $8,500 a new heating plant can be put into the buildings. Dr. Reyer says that the maternity ward, which is on the fourth floor, and which has been declared unsafe in case of fire, will be removed to the second floor.

It is impossible to give an accurate list of the effective Russian warships at Port Arthur, but some idea of the state of the fleet can be formed from the official report of Viceroy Alexieff to Emperor Nicholas concerning the engagement of April 13, in which the Petropavlovsk was sunk and the Pobieda was seriously damaged. In this report the viceroy said: "The whole effective squadron at Port Arthur sailed out." He then enumerated the first-class battleships Peresviet, Pobieda, Poltava, Petropavlovsk and Sevastopol; the armored cruisers Askold and Biana, the second-class protected cruiser Novik, two torpedo cruisers and five torpedo boat destroyers. It will therefore be seen that on April 14, the day after the destruction of the Petropavlovsk, the Russians at Port Arthur had available three battleships, one armored cruiser and three protected cruisers, whereas on Feb. 1 they had available at Port Arthur seven battleships, one armored cruiser, five protected cruisers and one torpedo transport. The number of torpedo boats or torpedo boat destroyers effective or dis-

The Russian soldiers who have since died in hospitals were buried on a hillton near Antung and were followed to the grave by a Japanese guard of honor and the staff officers. A Danish Lutheran missionary, the only foreigner living at Antung, read the funeral services over the remains. The captured Russian munitions of war being brought into Antung include twenty field pieces, ten machine guns, much small arm ammunition, twenty transport wagons, two ambulances and band instruments, the latter perforated with bullets. Most of these things were abandoned in the precipitate flight of the Russian troops.

OSTRICH LOGIC.

"When I can't see danger there is no danger." That's the logic of the ostrich which hides its head and exposes its body to the hunter. There are not a few people who seem to have gone to the ostrich to learn logic. The most dangerous enemies of humanity are the enemies which can't be seen, the disease breeding microbes which infect the blood. It is harder to get the microbe out of the blood than to keep it out, but Dr. Pierce's Golden Médical Discovery

"My blood was all out of order, and I had to go to the doctor," writes Mrs. James R. Moss, New London, Stanly Co., N.C. "He gave me medicine which helped me for a short time. In the winter of 1895 I got worse than I had ever been. My tonsils were enlarged and my neck swollen all out of shape; my throat was sore and I could not cure it. My husband went for the doctor, but he gave me no encouragement. He helped me a little, but it did not last long. He attended me for twelve months, when I heard of a lady me a little, but it did not last long. He attended me for twelve months, when I heard of a lady whose condition was like mine, who was taking your medicine and was getting well. So I secured some of the medicine and began taking it. In one week I was able to do my cooking. When I began taking the medicine I could sit up only a few minutes at a time, and I could rest or sleep only a little while at a time. My throat was some at times I could not even swallow assets. sore at times I could not even swallow sweet milk, and my tonsils were full of little eating sores. My left side was swollen out of shape and I could hardly get my breath.
